

Storm Causes Great Damages.

The storm Sunday night caused a great amount of damage throughout the state. Here in Vermontville village but little havoc was worked but in other parts of the county considerable property was destroyed. E. F. Tubbs' barn was struck by lightning but the rods saved it from damage. Fred Pendill had a lot of big trees blown down. The old Griswold orchard on West Main suffered considerable and other people lost parts of trees. Up at Kelly the loss was very serious. Myron Bosworth had just completed a fine big barn Saturday afternoon and the storm completely destroyed it. Ed Bosworth had one of his barns blown down and three head of cattle killed while John Creitz lost some stock and had his barn destroyed.

In Kalama Fred Wildt is the heaviest loser, as 20 acres of big oak trees were torn and twisted out of the ground and mostly destroyed. Geo. Bowen lost a barn and Mrs. Barley and Wm. Wilson had their barns moved off the foundation. Other buildings were moved some. Over in Eaton township the 20-acre orchard on the George McClintoc farm was blown out by the roots and George Rich in Chester lost a number of trees from his orchard.

The damage to crops will not be as heavy as they were not matured sufficiently. Towards Bellevue numerous trees were blown down and for a part of the way the roadway was obstructed by the trees which had blown into the highway.

JUNE 14, 1911.

Misses Ruth and Grace Stevens left for their home at Brinton after closing their school work here. They will be greatly missed as both young ladies have always been very popular in Vermontville. Next year Miss Grace Stevens teaches the school at home and so far no authorized reports are given out as to the occupation Miss Ruth will follow though some hint she will not be engaged in teaching.

Pearl Hawkins of Knoxville, Tenn., came home Wednesday for a rest from her studio work in the southern city.

Miss Edith Martin arrived home Monday from Mt. Pleasant, having completed her school work there for the year.

The exercises opened with the class march played by Mrs. LeRoy Snell, to the strains of which the graduates marched down the center aisle of the hall, preceded by the juniors, and took their places on the platform. After the invocation by Rev. G. R. Millard, Dr. Dana Snell favored the audience with a solo, after which the greater part of the evening was given over to the graduating class of 1911 and their first public efforts along oratorical lines proved a big surprise to the large audience assembled, the orations and essays being excellent and showing much care in preparation.

Individual honors would be hard to decide during the evening's program. Each number was placed in competent hands and the different parts, which were as follows, were rendered in a capable manner; song, Edgar Sprague; class history, Mary Barningham; essay, "Reclamation of the Waste Lands," Hazel Wells; class will, Fern Helm; class musician, "Dancing Stars," Ala Satterlee; oration, "Pioneers of Progress," William Barningham; class prophecy, Hazel Thompson; essay, "How to Succeed," Hazel King; class poem, "Memories," Lois Hall; oration, "Conservation of the Forests," Cecil Mull; giftatory, Madeleine McCrohan; valedictory, Donald Carey.

The musical numbers were much enjoyed and included a violin solo by Mrs. Vance Barber and two vocal selections by Dr. Dana Snell, Miss Jennie Martin acting as accompanist. The benediction by Rev. St. Clare Parsons brought to a close a most enjoyable evening and thus ended the final chapter in the school life of twelve of Vermontville's young people.

Hammond-Green Nuptials.

Married on Sunday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Green, by Rev. St. Clare Parsons, Miss Ruby M. Green and Loyal C. Hammond. This came as a surprise their friends for the bride had just engaged to teach in the local schools another year and a promotion to the high room had been given her.

The happy young people will remain in Vermontville for the time being. Congratulations are extended by their many friends.

JUNE 28, 1911.

Former Vermontville Girl Marries.

We take the following from the Battle Creek Moon of last week:

Miss Agnes Ambrose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Ambrose of 38 Tompkins street, was married in Grand Rapids Thursday to Fred L. Evans, also of this city, and a traveling salesman for the F. W. French Lumber Co., of Battle Creek. The bride accompanied her newly wedded husband on a trip through Northern Michigan from which they will return to occupy a residence at 72 Prelinghuysen avenue. Mrs. Evans is a pianist of considerable note and recently returned from a concert tour through the west.

Her many friends in Vermontville extend congratulations.

Helen Loveland and Mary McEachran spent a few days the past week with the former's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Loveland.

do. Merck.—Effervescent. Lithium salicylate, sod. 1 acid, & sugar.—Wh., gran. lithium salicylate.—Sol. —Dose 30-60 grains (2-4).

Comparative Values (see 1) sodium Iodide: 5=Iodoform; 5
phate; 225=Aconitine; 5
2565=Homatropine Hydrol

138