

...rds and thoughtful deeds. ... his parents, he leaves two brothers, a sister, an aged grandmother, and a large circle of friends, among whom he will be sorely missed. The funeral was held at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Granger, Thursday, October 3, Rev. H. H. VanAuken conducting the services. Burial in Gresham cemetery.

We wish to extend our heartfelt sympathy to our dear friends and neighbors; also to the singers for their kindness to us in our time of sad bereavement; also for the beautiful floral offerings.

A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we loved is stilled,
A place is vacant in our home,
Which ne'er can be filled."

Ernie C. Granger returned to his home in Beaverton Friday, after being called here by the sickness and death of his brother, Emerson D. Granger.

OCT. 30, 1912.

Reports from Battle Creek state that C. E. Fleming, whose life has been despaired of for the past ten days, has a fair chance of recovery. He is at the U. of M. hospital at Ann Arbor, where he will be confined for several weeks.

Mrs. F. F. Ambrose went to Belding Friday morning to become acquainted with the new grandson which arrived Wednesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Gregg. Mrs. Nina Hill, who has been there for several weeks, has returned to Vermontville.

Mrs. Hattie Bron of Grand Rapids was a guest of Mrs. W. H. Benedict and other friends last week.

Mrs. W. M. Griswold of Charlotte visited numerous friends here a few days last week.

NOV. 13, 1912.

Rural Carrier Lovell has been making extra good time on his route the past few days. He has been in a big hustle to get back home to see the new boy which put in its appearance Wednesday night. He will answer to the name of Gordon Arby.

Broke Arm in Thresher.

While working about his threshing machine Monday morning while threshing wheat at Andrew Eitel's Herman Zemke had the misfortune to get his left arm in the machine and broke both bones as well as badly cutting the flesh and muscles. He was making some adjustment when a pitched bundle struck his elbow, causing the arm to be thrown into the drive belt and this carried it over the pulley.

Drs. McEachran and McLaughlin were summoned and they dressed the injury which, while not serious, is pretty painful. This is the first time Mr. Zemke has ever been injured in all the years he has been threshing and he considers himself lucky to have escaped thus far.

Uses: A do. Merok. Powder. do. do. Mixt. Grayish. —Uses: do. Mixt. in —Dra. & efferv. grains (keep in Iron Citro- (Tastele ferric it Tonic. —rheum. Dose 10

Old Resident Dies Suddenly.

Monday morning about six o'clock M. J. Cunningham died suddenly at his home in this village. He arose as usual and had been about his home doing the usual morning chores and had partaken of his breakfast and was enjoying his morning smoke. He laid down on the couch to take it easy and was soon stricken with heart trouble and passed away a few moments later.

The funeral took place this morning at the Catholic church in Nashville and interment was made at Woodlawn.

NOV. 20, 1912.

MICHAEL J. CUNNINGHAM

Michael J. Cunningham was born in Muskingham county, Ohio, on December 23, 1838. He enlisted in Co. A, 62d Reg. Ohio Volunteer Infantry on the 9th day of February, 1864. Was severely wounded at the Battle of Darby Town Road, and discharged by order of the War Department at Columbus, Ohio, on the 30th day of May, 1865. Soon after his discharge he came to Vermontville where he has since resided. He was twice married, his first wife dying years ago. On Oct. 23, 1900 he married Miss B. M. O'Dea, an estimable lady of Ontario, Canada, who survives. He was a member of the Catholic church and lived a faithful Christian life.

He died at his home in Vermontville death being primarily caused by the wound he received in defense of his country. He scattered flowers while he lived and will reap the reward of a well spent life.

He was laid to rest in Woodlawn cemetery on Nov. 13—a man of rugged honesty and sterling character and beloved by all.

AMES E. KIDDER.

In the passing away of Ames E. Kidder another of Vermontville's older residents will be missed from the community. For the past two years Mr. Kidder had been in failing health and finally was obliged to give up work at his trade of blacksmithing. He had not been confined to his bed till a few days before his demise and the end came peacefully on early Saturday morning.

Mr. Kidder was born at Rollin, Lenawee county, this state on May 5, 1856 and was 56 years, 6 months and 11 days old at the time of his death. He was married in 1877 to Mary E. Moore of Sunfield and after residing in the country for a number of years came to Vermontville in 1885 where he has since resided with the exception of a few months on a farm just on the edge of Nashville.

He is survived by his wife and six children, one daughter having died years ago. The children reside in several near by towns, Arthur and Virgil living at Nashville, Ethan at Hastings, Louis at Charlotte, Miss Ethelyn at Niles and Wayne has been at home attending school.