ALEXANDER D. LAKE CELEBRATES HIS 98 BIRTHDAY

(From The Fennville Herald) Among the many greetings and congratulations extended to Alexans der D. Lake, on his 98th birthday, which came on Christmas day, was magnificent bouquet of roses from The Grand Rapids Herald, of which Mr. Lake had been a subscriber and reader for many years.

Another remembrance was in the form of a poem, "The Bridge Builder," sent by Will Alsover, cashier of the State Bank at Vermontville, where Mr. Lake resided for many years before coming to Fennville last July to make his home with his daughter, Mrs. Lydia Bale. The poem was sufrounded with cutouts o of Santa Claus and Christmas em- Oa blems in colors. The verses entitled "The Bridge Ok Builder," and dedicated to Mr. Old Lake on his 98th birthday, are as Oliv fellows An old man traveling a lone high ona way

Came at the evening cold and gray Onst To a chasm vast and deep and wide Onto The did man crossed in the twilight Orch alm;

The sullen stream held ho fears for him;

But he turned when safe on the other side And built a bridge to span the tide.

"Old man." said a fellow pilgrim near.

You are wasting your time with building here,

You never again will pass this way. Your journey will end with the closing day;

You have crossed this chasm, deep and wide, Why build this bridge at eventide,

The builder lifted his old gray head Good friend, in the way I've come"

he said, There followeth after me today A youth whose feet must pass this way; This stream that has been as naught

to me To the fair-haired youth may a pit-

He, too, must cross in the twilight dim;

Good, friend, I am building the bridge for him."

MRS GLENN RANDALL

Cora E Baker, daughter of Elizabeth and Joshua Baker, was born July 27, 1888 in Dark Co. Ohio. When about six years old she came with her parents to Michigan, and the most of her life has been spend in and near Vermontville. She was united in marriage to Glenn Randall April 17, 1907, and this union has been a very happy one. When about eight years ago her sister Bessie died very suddenly, leaving a baby girl Dellabelle, five months old, they took her into their home and have cared for her as tenderly as if she had been their own child.

She was sympethic and generous, a great lover of flowers and of her home. Her cheery disposition, endeared her to a large circle of relatives and friends. She was a memher of the Gleaners and Rebekah lodges.

She departed this life very suddenly March 15, 1930, aged 41 years, 5 months and 18 days. Her mother, two sisters and a brother preceeded her in death. Besides her husband and Dellabelle, there are left to cherish her memory, a father, three sisters, four brothers, and many other relatives and friends. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon conducted by Rev. Clark Phillips at the Mapes & Ward funeral home, and burial in Wood-Pulaski, Jackson

Ovi lawn con Pulaski, Jackson Ow. Muskegon Pulaski, Jackson Owen Former Editor Of Charlotte Leader

Charlotte, Dec. 30.:- Funeral ser-aire vices for Frank A. Ells, 82, dean of Palisa the newspaper fraternity of Eaton Palm county, have been set for 2 p. m. Palm Tuesday at the A. C. Cheney funeral and editor of the former Charlotte Leader many years, died Saturday at his residence here following a stroke of paralysis suffered a few weeks ago.

Mr. Ells was born in July, 1847. His wife died a number of years ago. He is survived by two children, Mrs. Ora Hoag of Manchester, lowa, who came to Charlotte when her father was taken ill and has had the care of him until his death, and Don B. Ells, who conducts a job printing plant; also three brothers, George W. Bils of Charlotte; Will Ells who resides near Conover, Wis., and Julius B. Ells of near Charlotte.

Pay

Osht

Ossi Otis Otsi