Vermontville Youth Killed

(Special to The State Journal)

VERMONTVILLE, Oct. 22—Joseph Lee Davis, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Davis, Vermontville, was killed Saturday afternoon in a hunting accident on his uncle's farm in rural Vermontville.

The youth was found by his uncle, Benjamin Davis. He had been shot through the right chest, apparently with his own .22 caliber rifle. He was dead upon arrival at the office of a Vermontville physician. The youth was hunting alone at the time of the accident.

Sheriff Everett Peck said the boy apparently dropped his rifle, or tripped and caused the gun to discharge.

Davis was a seventh grade student in the Vermontville Community school.

Besides his parents, he is survived by a sister, Mary, at home; and his grandmother, Mrs. Stanton Davis, of Vermontville.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.
