To Whom It May Concern

The Opera House in Vermontville is not only an important historical landmark, it is a building in which many Vermontville citizens take pride.

As Community Education Director for the Maple Valley Schools. I believe the Opera House could be used in many different ways. Our Community Band is planning to hold a band concert in the Opera House in December. We have discussed having drama classes for children and then having the children perform in the Opera House. We have also discussed using local talent to put on plays and various types of programs, as well as bringing in talent from other areas.

I believe that these activities could result in promoting the town of Vermontville, the schools, our program, and help the Maple Valley community in many positive ways.

Sincerely,

Kay Hartzler
